

Tuesday, February 9, 2010
Fairmont Hotel
1717 North Akard Street, Dallas, 75201
7:30 a.m. – 5:00 p.m

Building upon last year's inaugural Summit that drew more than 700 attendees, the U.S. Green Building Council-North Texas Chapter and the HBA of Greater Dallas have teamed up once again to provide an outstanding opportunity to the Texas construction industry.

Due to popular demand the Summit has expanded to a full-day in order to accommodate practical in-depth seminars that you can utilize to better-position your business in the growing green building sector. These seminars will focus on all facets of new and existing residential and commercial construction making it a unique opportunity that brings together all sectors of the construction industry.

Early Registration for a reduced price is available now until January 10!

- Price per attendee: $55 (with lunch) or $40 (without lunch)

Title Sponsors

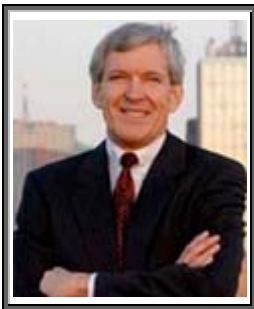

Sponsorship Opportunities are Available at TexasGreenHomeSummit.com

Five Reasons to Sponsor the Summit:

- Exposure – There will be 1200 to 1800 building professionals attending. Title Sponsors and Exhibit Sponsors will have exhibit booths to communicate with a targeted profile of potential customers interested in sustainability and efficiency in buildings. Sponsors will also be exposed to several thousand industry professionals thanks to event correspondence and marketing outreach.
- Value – Sponsorships are priced to provide a quick return on your investment. This is a low cost, high impact DFW event!
 - Opportunities start at just $350
- Education – A superior line up of local and national green building professionals presenting a “how to” and responding with answers to your questions
- Targeted Audience– There will be no other event with more attendance from the target audience of professionals who need your products and services.
- Networking – See and be seen by the people who make buying decisions.
